THE OAK

Live thy Life,
Young and old,
Like yon oak,
Bright in spring,
Living gold:

Summer-rich
Then; and then
Autumn-changed,
Soberer-hued
Gold again.

All his leaves
Fallen at length,
Look, he stands,
Trunk and bough,
Naked strength.

Alfred Tennyson

Dedicated To MISS ANN HINKLE

The 1965 Lancer Legend is dedicated to you, Miss Hinkle. This is Thousand Oaks High School's way of thanking you for all you have done to aid the student body. In addition to your teaching, you always find time to sell rooster's bus tickets, be a VCISC advisor, be business manager of the annual, or simply be a helpful friend. We also thank you for putting out TOHS' first two annuals, during the years that you were annual advisor.

The annual staff is so indebted to you. No matter how late we keep you after or how much anguish we cause you, you are always there to help the next time we need you. This is why we chose you as the recipient of this annual dedication.

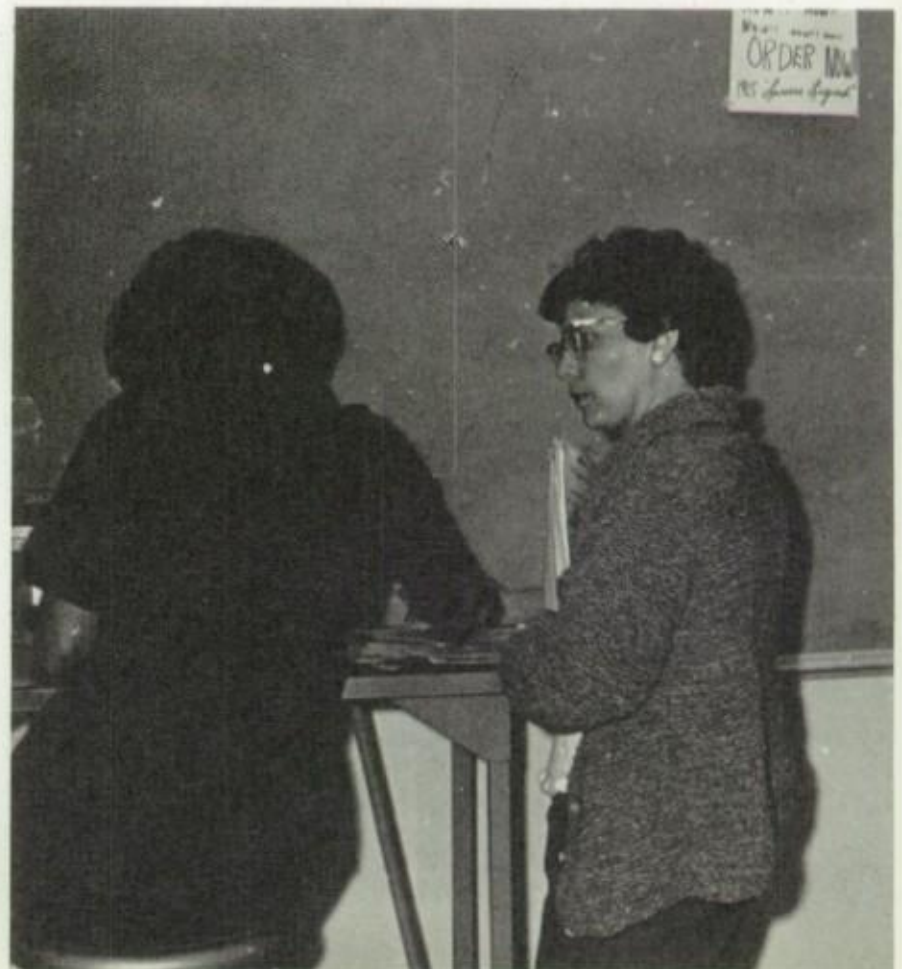

A teacher . . .

A friend . . .

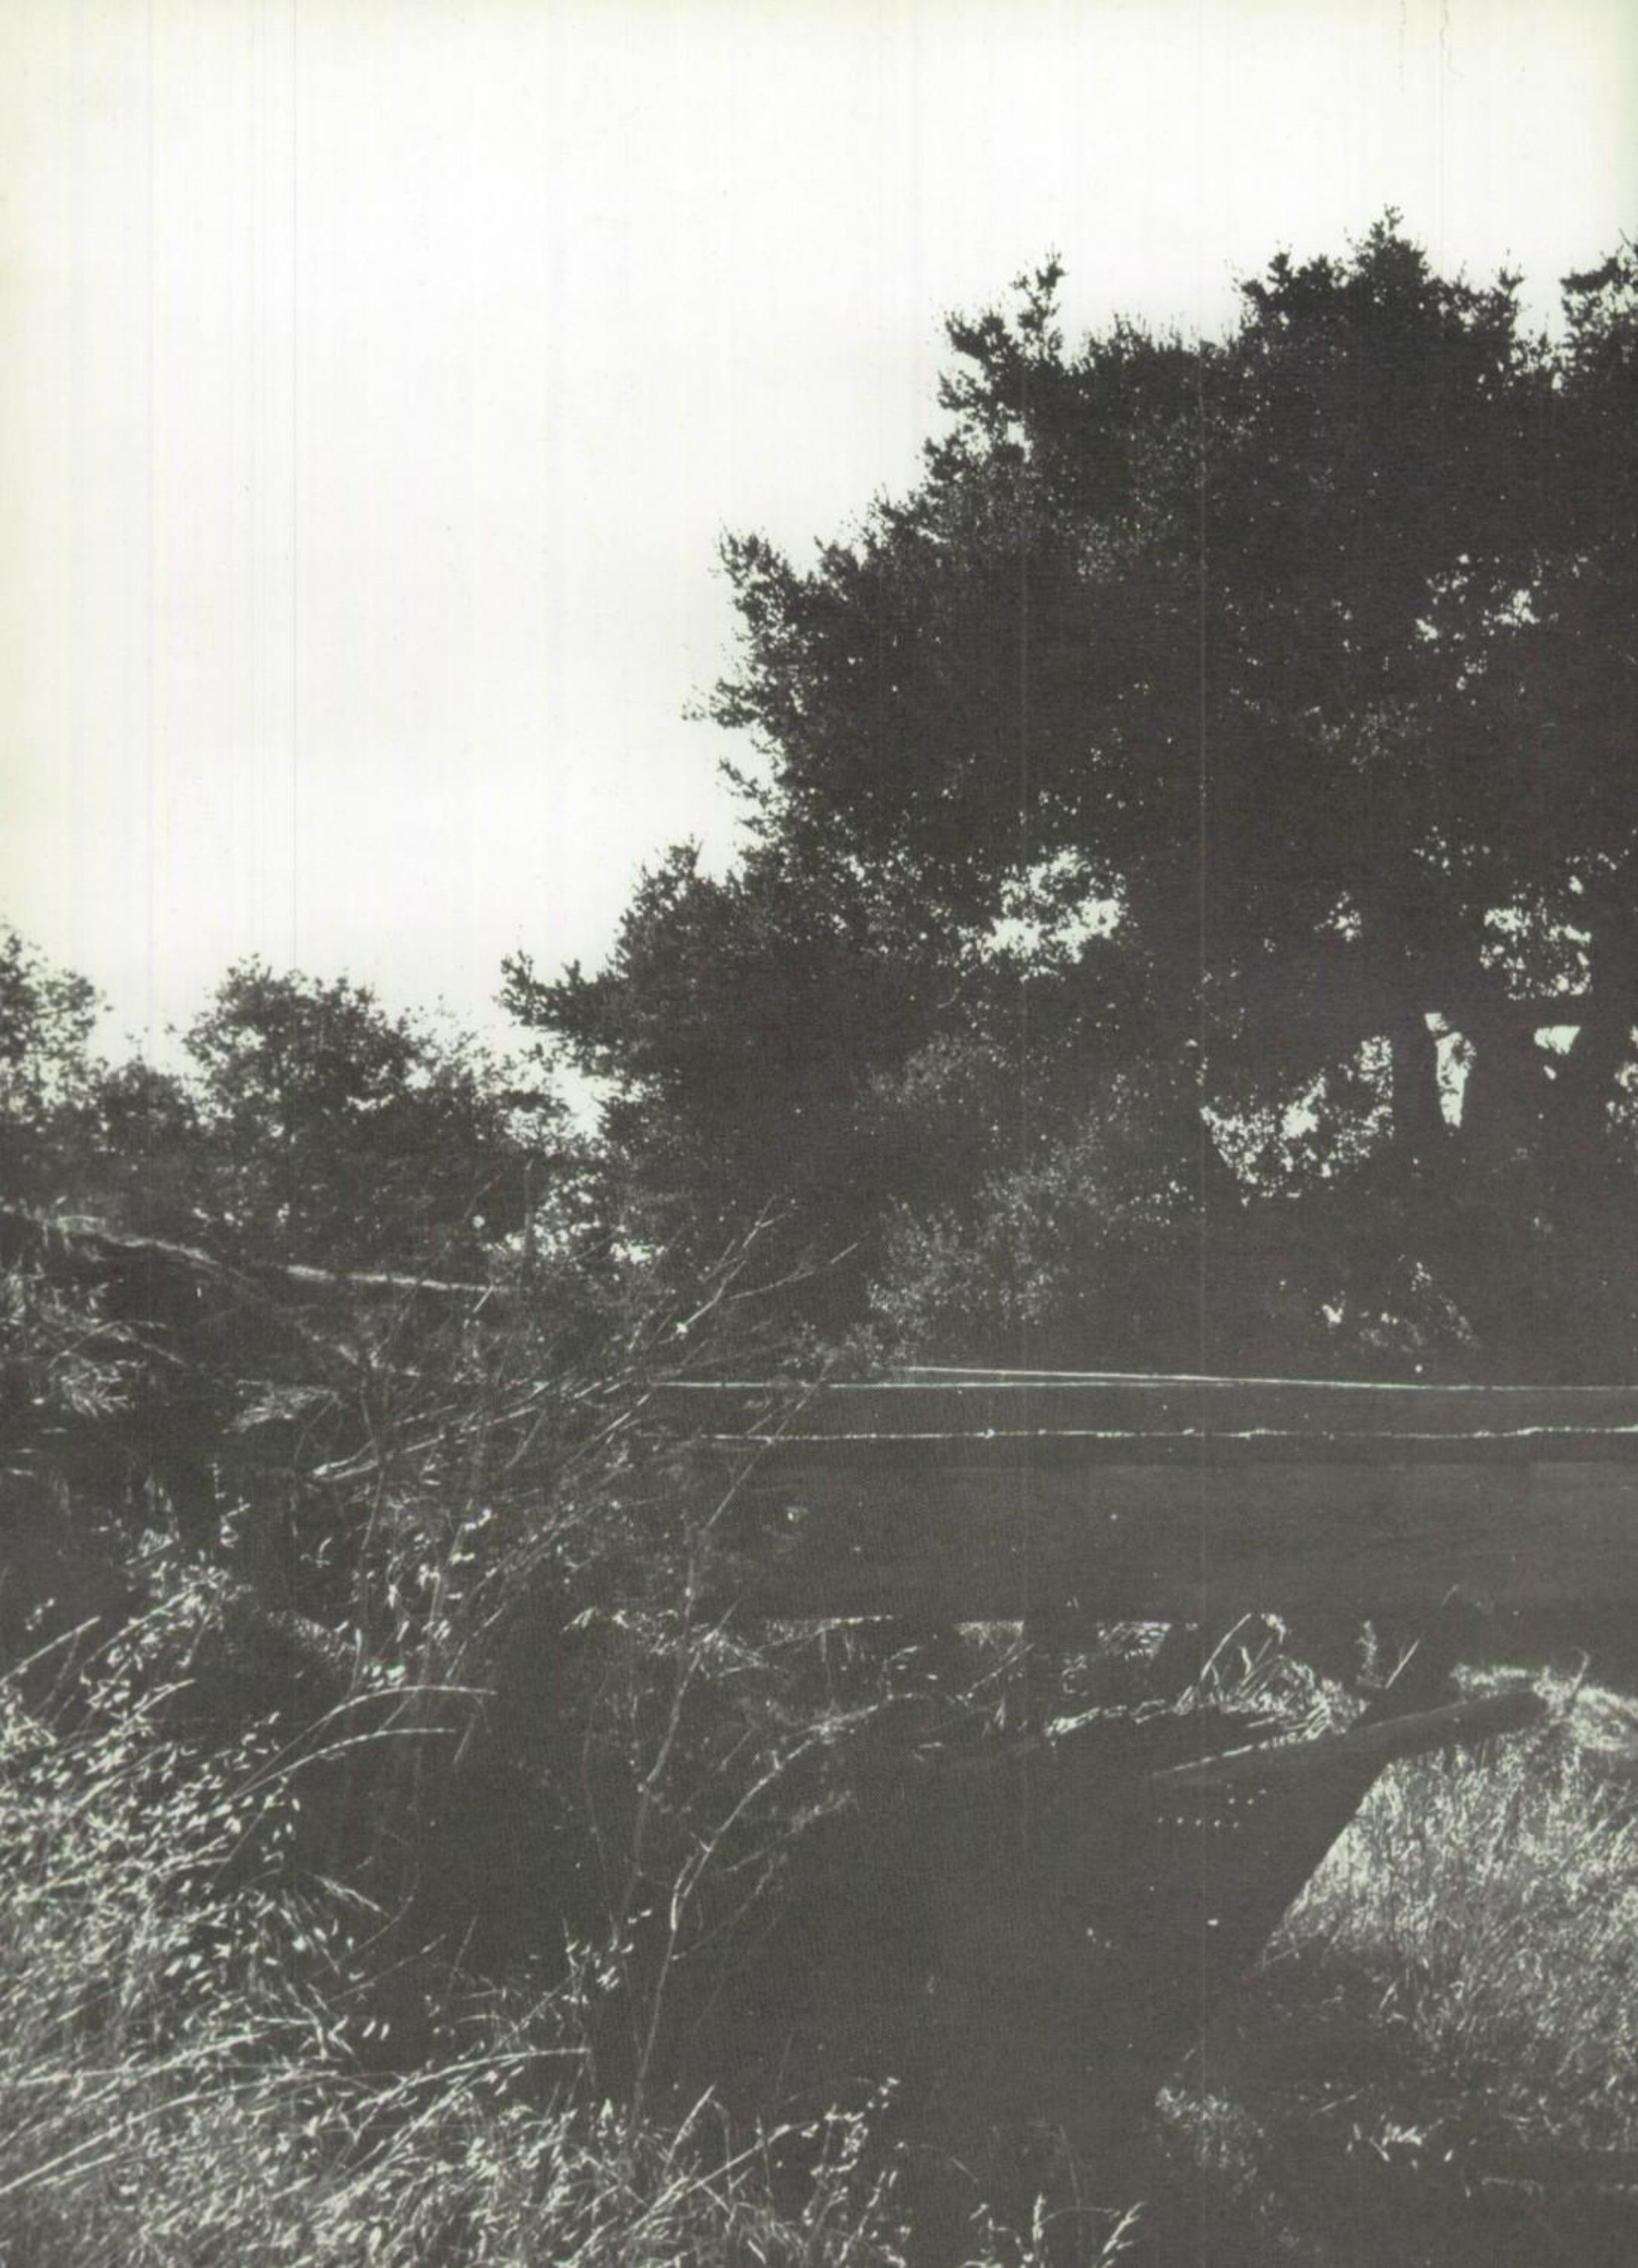

An annual advisor . . .

Principal

MR. TOM ROSSER

School spirit, morale, or esprit de corps is the sum total of countless individual efforts, successes, and accomplishments in the broad spectrum of school experience. Members of the Class of 1965, have set a standard which classes of the future will do exceedingly well to attain. It is to be hoped that your experiences have been as personally rewarding as they have been a source of pride to your families, your community, and to the staff of Thousand Oaks High School.

With fondest personal regards and sincere best wishes,
Tom Rosser, Principal

SHERIL KOAGEL

My name is Joe, I'm a rea-cool surfer, and as all you surfers know few of us like schoobecause it gets in our way. Wh-would rather sit in a hot, stuff-classroom than be out riding the waves? So my problem is how to ditch without getting caught.
It's very important not to ge-caught, at least until I'm cage because by then no one wil-be haunting me.

I keep running into a big obstacle---Mr. Seidler. Every tim-
I am absent he finds out about it. I know none o f my friend-tell him where I've been be-

All the other boys wear carnations, Steve, and you have to wear a stinkweed.

I told you to lick the envelope, Tom, not eat it.

Good grief. I've chewed off my tongue.

I dreamt I was a court jester in my Maidenform breeches.

My finger! My finger!

Where's the faculty meeting?

year's Frontier League football race and they almost wound up the same way in the voting for the 1964 All-Frontier team.

The Lancers, who went on to finish second in the CIF "AA" playoffs after winning the Frontier title, placed six players on the 11-man All-Frontier squad, which was selected by the league coaches at a recent dinner-meeting and released today.

Ron Romans and Jim Russell, who gained over 2,000 yards between them, both made the backfield for Thousand Oaks and the Lancers placed one man at each position in the line—Jim Strait at end, John Hammond at tackle, Ben Shearer at guard and Tom Giallonardo at center.

The only other teams to have players on the first team were second place Hart with three and Buena's Bulldogs with two. Buena's Steve Tobias was picked at quarterback, while Glen Nichols made the remaining backfield spot.

Three Hart linemen were selected — end Bob Englestad, tackle Mike Nemback and guard Bill Stevart.

In addition to the six first team members, four Thousand Oaks players made the second team, with three more gaining honorable mention recognition. End Ray Seay and tackle Brandt Jackson made the second team and Corky Gaston received honorable mention honors.

Through this door
We pass proudly . . .
Anxiously . . .
Fearfully . . .
Beyond this threshold
Lies a new life.
We step across —
And here is
The world of High School.
Here is TOHS.

We watch. We Explore. We look up . . .
To teachers in respect.
To upperclassmen in awe.
Yet soon we learn . . . soon we discover . . .
Security in the warmth of friendship.
Contentment in a feeling of familiarity.
Confidence in the gaining of knowledge.

There are things to do — cheers to learn — songs to sing
Our voices grow from whispers into shouts.
The halls are our playground.
With arms flying and briefcases swinging,
We run . . . run . . . on and on . . .

We wait —
 For buses to come.
 For bells to ring.
 For someone to notice.
 We laugh too loudly —
 Lose our tempers —
 Defy authority —
 We seek to move . . . to catch up . . .
 To belong.

And now there are tests —
 Aptitude tests, placement tests,
 Easy tests, difficult tests.
 Counselors to listen to,
 Plans to discuss,
 Advice to make.

We begin to climb.

Posters are drawn.
 Speeches are made.
 Votes are cast.
 Our officers represent us.
 Our teachers scold us.
 Our friends encourage us.
 We grow.

We hold a hand—tenderly . . .
 Together we laugh and are happy.
 Apart we cry and are sad.
 We dream . . .
 Assignments are forgotten.
 Books are lost.
 We arrive late.
 We study late.

College beckons—jobs are sought.
 The world of adults is closer now . . .
 Soon it will envelope us.
 We worry a little.

We feel important—we feel good,
 For now we are the leaders.
 There are parties to go to,
 Dances to organize, teams to cheer.
 Pictures are exchanged and performances given.
 Magazines sold and tickets bought . . .
 We want to help,
 We want to be remembered.

We drive to school,
 Listen to announcements,
 Take examinations,
 Attend meetings.
 We have arrived.

We have reached the top.
We have reached the end.
The minutes pass . . . slowly . . .

We watch the clock—

Tick . . .

Tick . . .

Tick . . .

A Bell—

A speech—

A cap and gown—

A smile and then a tear or two . . .

We are graduated.

Another year has come and gone. For some this year has brought joy; for others, sorrow; but for all, memories. It is these memories that we have tried to capture in the 1965 LANCER LEGEND.

This is also the time for me, as editor, to thank my staff for all their dedicated work and late hours. There is no way that I can possibly express my appreciation. All I can say is thank you, Staff, and a special thanks to you, Mr. Andrews, for being advisor.

The annual staff chose "Trees" for its theme, because we are surrounded by their beauty and grandeur. We hope that TOHS and each of its students will grow as stately and strong as the trees we have pictured.

As the trees are scattered on the hillside, so will the students of this graduating class scatter. But just as each tree lends beauty and strength in its place, so will each member of the class of 1965 contribute his strength and ideals to the world which he now enters.

Michele Scott
